WHAT IS A MENTOR?

Mentors are successful individuals who have a track record of achievement, and who possess the skills and the willingness to help others do the same.

The Matrix is perhaps one of the most profound movies of our time. Certainly one of the most impactful. In the movie, Neo has a mentor called Morpheus, who completely believes in him. In fact, Morpheus believes so completely in Neo that he is prepared to sacrifice his own life to save him.

In the beginning, Neo has very little belief in himself. He feels anguish, frustration, confusion. He has no clarity about what his path is. No matter what he does or where he goes, he always feels somehow lost. And not even trusting the decisions he finally does make.

Over time, something in Neo changes, and he slowly begins to believe.

"I'm trying to free your mind, Neo" says Morpheus. "But I can only show you the door. You're the one that has to walk through it". This is a demonstration of one of the key principles of powerful mentorship.

Eventually Neo learns to believe in himself, slowly at first, but then more and more rapidly. And when he fully and completely believes in himself, he is able to accomplish "miracles".

But this transformation takes a while, it's a difficult process. Maybe it's the hardest thing Neo has ever had to do in his life. He could have failed at many points along the way. But he persevered and succeeded.

Could he have done it alone, without Morpheus? Maybe... but probably not.

Neo had a mentor who absolutely believed in him during his 'hours of darkness'. Morpheus helped Neo free his mind, and then guided him toward his path to greatness.

Neo ultimately walked the path of his own success alone, but he had Morpheus helping to guide him along the way. Morpheus saw something potentially brilliant in Neo, but this inner potential was draped in doubt, fear and uncertainty. Morpheus helped Neo to discover his inner brilliance, and then helped him to manifest it by learning to trust in himself. And after Neo started believing in himself, he became master of his own destiny.

Are you in your own version of Neo's 'hour of darkness'?

A DIAMOND IN THE ROUGH

You may be thinking “Well, that's a great story- but what does it mean for me?” or “How do I get there from here? I don't live in a movie.” Or you may be thinking “I'm not where I want to be in life, and I'm certainly not operating at 100% of my potential, but what can I do about it by myself?”

Have you ever thought that you can BE more than you already are? DO more? HAVE more? Is there something holding you back, something that - if you could only overcome it - would set you free to live the life of your dreams?

Do you know that most people are operating at 30-50% of their capacity, and some even less?

Why is this?

It's because they don't have direct knowledge of their potential. Even more importantly, they have never developed a plan to access this potential, or sought out the personal guidance that will enable them to unlock this inner power.

Let's look at world class athletes, entertainers, business professionals and politicians.

They seem to have it all - fame, money, influence, and tremendous lifestyle freedom. But were they always on top? Not really, many of them started out just like the rest of us with some raw potential, but with little of the polish that separates the truly successful from the rest of the pack.

It takes the stonecutter to free up the brilliance inside a rough diamond, and it's no different with you - you need someone who can see beyond your rough edges, see your inner potential, and then help you to uncover the gem that you are.

And that's where having a mentor comes in.

DREAMS OF SUCCESS

A great mentor will help you live your true potential. They will see what you can't see in yourself, and help you unleash your inner greatness.

Like Morpheus, they will help you identify your brilliance, assess your strengths and weaknesses, and offer guidance to unleash your full power.

Want more money? Want more freedom? More power in the world?
You can have all this and more!

Like Neo, you just need to allow yourself to believe!

Do you remember having dreams as a child? Yes, of course you do... after all, that's what children do. They dream, and they believe in their dreams. They believe in miracles, and they believe in their own inner brilliance.

They believe in themselves.

But what about you? Do you still believe in your dreams?

It's likely that over time your dreams have disappeared or gotten shut down, so you could get on with the hard business of making a living. Responsible adults are generally pretty serious about life, and besides, everyone knows that it takes hard work to become successful... doesn't it?

And of course we wouldn't want to be accused of being a 'dreamer' as an adult, would we?

If Neo had given up on his dream, if he had given up on himself, he wouldn't have broken through to realize his full potential.

Was it hard for him to believe in himself in a world that makes fun of dreamers? Yes.

Was it worth it? Absolutely!

Do you want to be the best "you" possible? Not willing to settle for mediocre? Then you need mentors who will help you get there.

WHY DO I NEED A TEAM? CAN'T I JUST DO IT ON MY OWN?

Well, think of it this way:

Are you feeling stuck?

Have you tried everything you can think of to break through, but nothing seems to be working?

Are you feeling discouraged, frustrated, ready to quit?

You may feel that you have greatness inside, but somehow you can't let it out. You know that you deserve success, but somehow you can't seem to make it all work.

It may look like not enough time, too little money, or lack of knowledge. Or it may look like no motivation, poor discipline, or lack of consistency. But mostly it feels like you need someone or something outside of yourself, something powerful, that will help you take those next steps... and if you can just take those steps, then you will finally succeed.

We are here to show you those next steps. We have the roadmap. Not only that, we have already walked the path and have already created massive success, so we KNOW what you need to do, and are here to support you along the way.

Most successful people already know that they need an outside coach, and they are able to avoid the pitfalls of failure by getting powerful help to overcome blocks, traps and limitations.

Think of the most successful people you know. There is a good chance they did not become successful completely on their own. Chances are they had a mentor to help them overcome their limitations and exploit their natural gifts.

Think of the greatest athletes in any sport. Do they have coaches? Of course they do, and the best athletes in the world often have the world's best coaches.

If you want to become successful, and to do it quickly, then do what the world's top performers do. Contact us and get the best coaching and support you possibly can.

You deserve to live a successful and joyous life. And we are here to show you HOW to do exactly that.

We are among the most successful people in our industry. We are part of the top 1% of all earners worldwide. We have the experience, the insight and the ability to guide you in your climb to success. help you access new ideas and strategies. We show you a road map to get where you want to go, and then help you get there.

Everyone benefits from insight that is outside their own personal experiences.

You will experience a sense of achievement, and grow in confidence, when we are there directly supporting and showing the way.

Can you do all this on your own? Yes, it's possible, but unlikely.

After all, it is one of the laws of success that two people working together can achieve much more than one person can achieve on their own.

HOW CAN HAVING A MENTOR BENEFIT ME PERSONALLY?

Think about what it would be like to have a loyal friend who only has your best interest at heart, because the only way they can become more successful is if they help you become more successful. A friend who will give you expert advice because they are already successful, they are already where you want to be, and they are able to show you how to get there quickly. A friend who will help you to keep on track, because they understand that consistent effort is one of the building blocks to success. And finally, someone who is highly skilled in communication so that they can explain all this to you in an easy to understand way.

This is what it is like having a mentor.

With us as your partner, you will develop a clear sense of what you really want. Then we help you translate these goals into a clear action plan with self-motivating steps and ongoing accountability for your results.

Having quality mentorship minimizes the frustration of having to learn by failure on your way to the top. You quickly learn valuable business, personal and life skills. A mentor stretches your thinking by providing different perspectives and inviting you to try out new options to enhance your performance. This allows you to benefit from someone else's greater wisdom and life experiences.

A mentor provides a listening ear to bounce things off, test your ideas, and help you feel connected to success. You will be listened to in a safe environment, and receive honest feedback.

EXPONENTIAL SUCCESS WITH CHAIN MENTORING

Duplication and leverage are two of the secrets to developing true residual income and lifestyle freedom.

High quality mentoring provides a training ground for you to also develop your own mentoring skills so you can begin to mentor others, thereby duplicating your success and leveraging your efforts.

By mentoring others you can have a profound impact, not just on their individual life, but potentially on the wider world through “chain mentoring”.

Consider the following “chain” of mentors and what they have achieved so far. This is world class mentoring, duplication and leverage.

Andy Grove, CEO of Intel, was one of Steve Jobs' mentors during the early years of Apple. Grove became an intimate part of Jobs' life, and was there to support Jobs later on during his struggle with cancer.

Steve Jobs became a mentor to Mark Zuckerberg, founder of Facebook. When Jobs died, Zuckerberg wrote this on his Facebook page. “Steve, thank you for being a mentor and a friend. Thanks for showing that what you build can change the world. I will miss you.”

Mark Zuckerberg then became a mentor to Reid Hoffman, who is a co-founder of LinkedIn. LinkedIn is now one of the hottest social media properties in the world.

And who knows what's next for Reid Hoffman... and where this mentoring chain might end.

Chain mentorship is powerful, and can lead to massive success.

“Here’s to the crazy ones. The misfits. The rebels. The trouble-makers. The round pegs in the square holes. The ones who see things differently...they change things. They push the human race forward. And while some may see them as the crazy ones, we see genius.” - Steve Jobs

HOW DOES SUCCESS WORK?

First, you have to choose for your own success, and against mediocrity and failure. This may sound easy, but it can actually be difficult if you are used to making excuses, blaming others, or settling for less than you can achieve.

Once you have decided to accelerate your success through mentoring, you must find a quality mentor. While it is not easy to find highly successful people who might be willing to work with you, it is possible. We are one of the few places that is set up specifically to help you locate, negotiate, and execute a mentoring agreement, thereby creating a mutually successful outcome.

Like any good business relationship, it helps to have a clear agreement in place to build trust and prevent disappointment for both the mentor and the participant.

If you are accepted, sample mentoring agreements are available FREE to you as part of our program.

Finally, it is important to realize that even the best mentors can only help bring out what is already inside you. They can advise and support, but ultimately it is up to YOU to do the action it takes to become successful.

HOW CAN I FIND THE BEST MENTOR?

“A lot of people have gone further than they thought they could, because someone else thought they could” - Zig Ziglar

In the world of business, the most highly accomplished people are already too busy enjoying the fruits of their success to take on the extra responsibility of mentoring someone else. After all, mentoring is hard work with no guarantee of success.

As a result, many successful people just can't be bothered.

And anyway, how many millionaires do you personally know that are interested in mentoring you?

So lets face it... finding a mentor who has the skills, the time, and the genuine interest in helping others become successful is very difficult, if not impossible for most people.

So what to do?

First of all, let's determine whether you are a good candidate for mentoring.

Are you really willing to be mentored, even if it becomes challenging?

Are you willing to listen to the coaching and take action, especially when you feel stuck, overwhelmed or annoyed?

In other words, make sure you are really willing to be mentored.

Next, what are you bringing to the relationship? You already have some skills, accomplishments, and experience, either from this industry or from other areas of your life. That's great. A good mentor looks for someone who has the potential to be a "winner".

Remember, a good mentor can only bring out what is already inside you. They provide the coaching and guidance. You have to be willing to do the hard work. Because you are asking a mentor to give you their time and attention, make sure it is worth it for them. When you do your best, everybody wins.

You may have heard the saying "When the student is ready, the teacher will appear". Because you've read this far, there's a good chance you're a candidate for our mentoring program. If you are ready to take the next step to see if you qualify, get in touch with the person who made this information available to you. They will guide you through a short quiz to help you discover your personal 'success potential'.

IT SOUNDS LIKE GOOD MENTORS ARE EXPENSIVE, HOW CAN I AFFORD IT?

Yes, it's true that high-quality mentoring is expensive. In fact, the worlds best mentors can potentially make more money than the people they mentor!

But the good news is that our mentors only get paid on your success. In other words, for them to make money, they have to help you make money. This is truly a win-win situation.

We are some of the worlds best Networker Marketers. We have moved over $1billion worth of products and have over 100 years of full time professional industry experience, some earning over $100,000.00 per month in residual income.

Unlike traditional business mentoring, there are no upfront costs, no expensive fees, and no ongoing subscriptions to pay. If you are someone who is ready to be mentored, are willing to work hard to achieve your dreams, and are 100% committed to your own success then you could be a candidate for us to work with.

Just think - if you qualify, we will work with you for free. Nowhere else can you get access to these million-dollar earners who are willing to help you become successful quickly.

Take advantage of this unique opportunity to do like high-earning professionals do. Align yourself with a team of mentors who can help you get there faster, quicker, and easier.

SO WHATS NEXT?

If, after all this, you are still committed to finding a mentor, then let us help you to partner with a mentor who will give you the guidance, support and inspiration you need to live your fullest potential.

If you are ready to take the next step, then get back with the person who shared this information with you and see if YOU qualify for our exclusive program. If you are accepted, our team will take it from there.

"A mentor is someone who sees more talent and ability within you, than you see in yourself, and helps bring it out of you."
